MAY HAVE ANOTHER COUNTY

Move Being Made to Divide Brevard's Broad Acres—Rumor Says That the Name Will be Flagler.

The Cocoa and Rockledge News of Thursday says that the rumor of a new county, to be made from the lower part of Brevard has materialized in the shape of a notice published in the Fort Pierce News, to the effect that application will be made to the next legislature for the enactment of a law creating a new county, which shall comprise all that part of Brevard county lying south of the line dividing townships 20 and 31 to the medial line of the St. Sebastian river, down to the middle of said river to its confluence with Indian river, thence southerly along the east shore of the said river to the first named township dividing line—20 and 31—thence to the Atlantic ocean.

The proposed division will leave Brevard county about 66 miles long, while the new county, which rumor says will be named Flagler, will be about 42 miles long. If the division is made, each county will contain about the same area of land, there being nearly forty townships in each division, as proposed.

Old Farmer Hopkins.

Theater goers differ largely in taste. Some enjoy drama, some orchestral music, some band music, some are appealed to more strongly by specialties, songs, dances, etc., others are reached through the eye, beautiful scenery, elaborate stage settings, elegant costumes, correct colorings and artistic groupings please them above all else. The attractive gathering together and presenting of all these things in a first class manner is the one that will please everybody. It is said that the Frank S. Davidson's new "Old Farmer Hopkins" company has done this very thing and is reaping a harvest. They will be at the Daytona Opera House for one night only, Monday, Feb. 27th.

At the Opera House.

Prof. Hammet's trained animal and bird show attracted a large crowd at the Opera House last night. The show was all that was advertised and the audience was much pleased at the many tricks of the performing birds and animals. The performing canaries and chickens were especially good.

Musical at the Casino.

For the first time Shelton and McClean made their appearance at Keatings Casino last night. This talented musical team is from Russellville, Ky. They have manufactured an instrument of their own called the "Aquarian Chimes." It is a large frame and encased within two rows of glass bottle of different sizes, filled with liquids of different kinds. The quality of music that these young men presented with this eccentric instrument was surprising. They were strenuously applauded.

A dance was given after the show which was well patronized. Mrs. Spangler's orchestra furnished the music.

An Old Favorite

ROBIN ADAIR

By Lady Caroline Keppel

WHAT'S this dull town to me?
Robin's not here—
He whom I wished to see.
Wished for to hear;
Where's all the joy and mirth
Made life a heaven on earth?
Oh, they're all fled with thee,
Robin Adair!

What made the assembly shine?
Robin Adair!
What made the ball so fine?
Robin Adair!
What, when the play was over,
What made my heart so sore?
O, it was parting with
Robin Adair!

But now thou art from me,
Robin Adair!
But now I never see
Robin Adair!
Yet him I loved so well
Still in my heart shall dwell;
O, I can never forget
Robin Adair!

Welcome on shore again,
Robin Adair!
Welcome once more again,
Robin Adair!
I feel thy trembling hand;
Tears in the eyelids stand,
To greet thy native land,
Robin Adair!

Long I never saw thee, love,
Robin Adair!
Still I prayed for thee, love,
Robin Adair!
When thou wert far at sea,
Many made love to me,
But still I thought on thee,
Robin Adair!

Come to my heart again,
Robin Adair!
Never to part again,
Robin Adair!
And if thou still art true,
I will be constant too,
And will wait none but you,
Robin Adair!

A QUESTION.

Little Lucy Locket.
She hasn't any pockets.
No place to carry anything at all.
While Lucy's brother Benny
He has so very many
In which to put his marbles, top or ball.
That when he's in a hurry
"This sometimes quite a worry
To find the one he wants among them all."

Now, why should Lucy Locket
Not have a little pocket?
A handy little pocket in her dress?
And why should brother Benny
Who doesn't need so many
Be favored with a dozen, more or less?

The reason, if you know it,
He's kind enough to show it.
For really it's a puzzle, I confess.
—St. Nicholas.

Why He Was So Kind.

She—It was very kind of you to give up your seat to me when the carriage was so crowded.
He—Not at all, miss. We men are getting a bit tired of being accused of only giving up our seats to the pretty girls. That's what it is—Kind.

Branded on His Memory.

There is a corporal in one of the best infantry regiments in the regular army who has one lesson branded on his memory with words of fire—the lesson that no excuse can be framed or uttered by any soldier for being untidy or unclean.
The colonel was going down the line on a tour of inspection and noticed a corporal with soiled gloves. He said: "Corporal, that is setting a bad example to the men, wearing soiled gloves. Why do you do so?"
"I've had no pay for three months, sir, and I can't afford to hire washing done."
Taking from one of his pockets a pair of beautiful white gloves the colonel handed them to the corporal, saying: "Put on these gloves. I washed them myself."—Pittsburgh Post.

A Rare Coin.

Small Boy (who has become interested in coin collecting)—Papa, what is the rarest coin you know of? Papa (sadly)—A twenty dollar gold piece, my

A Recompense.

Young Edward, aged six, was quite tired of staying in the house. His mother was ill and had tried to keep him in the room with her because her room was warmer than his playroom, but his toys were all in the playroom, and he became restless to go to them.
"Goodbye, mamma," he said. "I will come back in a thousand years."
"I will be dead and buried by that time, son."

On Hand.

The bell rang, the car stopped. The nervous young man stumbled down the aisle and on to the platform. Then he rushed back.
"I left a pair of gloves on this seat," he sharply cried. "Where are they?"
There was a little confusion among the passengers.
Suddenly the young man straightened up.
"By gum," he cried, "I've got 'em on!"
Then he rapidly retreated, and the passengers audibly smiled.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Great Relief.

As the pedestrian passed the deserted lot seven masked men sprang out and began to pummel him unmercifully.
"Help! Help!" shouted the pedestrian. "What are you trying to do to me?"

"Rob you!" retorted the leader of the wicked gang.
"Thank heaven! I thought you were going to give me a college initiation!"—Chicago News.

A Penalty of Greatness.

"Why don't you do something that will cause posterity to remember you?" "Don't care to," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have no desire to have all my faults and follies paraded before the public in an edition de luxe of secret memoirs."—Washington Star.

Changed.

She—I thought the Blanks said that uncle of theirs had such ill bred manners they couldn't invite him to visit them.
He—They did, but since he has fallen into a million they have decided that he was only eccentric.—Detroit Free Press.

Failed.

Dixie—Of course they gave you ether, so you didn't suffer any pain by the operation?
Bingley—Unfortunately I came to before the bill was presented.—Boston Transcript.

A man must be both stupid and uncharitable who believes there is no virtue or truth but on his own side.—Addison.

Bazaar at the Armory.

The bazaar held at the Armory last night by the ladies of the Baptist Church proved a greater financial success than was anticipated, over $100 being realized.

The prettiest table was that presided over by Mrs. C. Withers, who offered for sale shell and fish scale articles, all of which were made by herself. Mrs. Withers has a number of articles left on hand which are for sale at her residence on N. Beach street.

Mr. Holmes gave auto rides at ten cents each and helped swell the receipts materially.

Mrs. Shoemaker, who had general charge of the bazaar, desires to thank the tourists who generously assisted by furnishing music and for their liberal patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. LaCroix and Mr. W. B. Phinney, all of Lynn, Mass., are located at The Ormond for the remainder of the season, repeating a last year's stay. Mr. Phinney has his auto with him and will enjoy to the full the excellent drives around Ormond.

A SERIES OF YACHT RACES

Would Prove of Much Interest To Visitors and Launch Owners. Races Last Year.

What is the reason we cannot have a day of yacht racing such as was given on the river last year? We have the facilities here, a beautiful river and an excellent course for racing. There are thousands of people who delight in aquatic sports in our city, and very little is being done for their amusement in this line.

This is not because the owners of launches are not ready to race, for such men as Fred. Sunderman, T. B. Collins, Harry Thompson and D. P. Merrill, owners of fast motor boats, and many others have always shown a willingness to race anything that came along, and several have been heard to say that they would run if they did not win, and knew there was no chance for winning. Still, the race might be a handicap affair, as it was at Palm Beach, and then there would be an equal chance all around.

An owner of one of the fastest boats here says that they may handicap his boat as much as they please, he will enter any race that promises fun for the people, and doubtless this spirit pervades all launch owners.

Then why not have a race, or several of them? Simply because it requires some one of influence and leisure time to raise a little money for prizes and manage the affair. The city is full of people and nearly all our citizens are as busy as can be looking after the comfort of those in their care. But this day of sports is almost a necessity and it can and should be attended to at once.

Last year several races were held here but the events were not sufficiently advertised and few people witnessed them. The DAYTONA NEWS will see that races are advertised thoroughly if advised of the date of races beforehand.
